consultations with

trans children and young people

for young people aged 13-17

The Department of Children and Youth Affairs wants to hear the views of transgender identified children and young people.

We want to find out the things that make your life easy and the things that make your life hard. You will also get the chance to talk about the things that work well and the things that need to change.

You will work in groups with other children or young people (in your age group).

Your views and the views of the other children and young people at the consultations will be put into a report but your name will not be used in the report. The report will be considered by the Minister for Children and Youth Affairs.
