About TENI

Transgender Equality Network Ireland (TENI) is the national non-profit organisation supporting the transgender community in Ireland. We seek to improve conditions and advance the rights and equality of trans* people and their families.

Despite significant progress in recent years, Ireland remains a place where it is difficult for trans people to lead safe, healthy and integrated lives. TENI is dedicated to ending transphobia, including stigma, discrimination and inequality.

Transgender or Trans refers to people whose gender identity or gender expression differs from the sex assigned to them at birth.*

Our Work

TENI works to make Ireland a place where trans people are understood, accepted and respected, and can participate fully in all aspects of Irish society.

Support

We offer a range of support services that aim to increase the wellbeing of trans people and their families. We provide information and signposting to counseling and healthcare services. We also work closely with trans peer support groups across the country to deliver community support.

Education

We provide workshops and trainings that increase awareness, understanding and inclusion of trans issues across key sectors of Irish society. We work closely with service providers, schools, colleges, businesses and voluntary organisations.

Advocacy

We advocate for the recognition of trans rights, equality and inclusion within mainstream organisations. We work to positively influence policy development and legislative change within the Government, healthcare settings, education system and the workplace.

Partnerships

Strategic partnerships are key to TENI's work. We work closely with diverse organisations and bodies including the HSE, trade unions and Irish human rights/LGBT organisations.

“We work to raise awareness in society, because with understanding comes acceptance. We work for fair treatment in our medical, political, educational and legal systems. We work to support individuals and families who are facing gender issues for the first time. We work with groups across the country so that Ireland’s trans community is strong and sustainable.”
